content control

Easily format text, cut and paste images, spellcheck and preview pages before publishing live. Add new pages or sections to any area of your site, move pages (or sections) around, reorder your menu - or revert your site back to previously saved snapshots. Create forms, polls, events, news, faq's, etc., and combine to design your own web pages using our easy to use interface.

control access

Control user access to Publish - add and remove users, assign passwords, assign publishing rights. Allow multiple groups or individuals access to update the web site content. A full log is stored of all access and functions carried out. Control access to your website - set up a private extranet area, publish pages & documents and assign access to your members. Unlimited number of access levels available.

I CONTENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

add images

Easily add images to your pages. Publish can be customised to allow automatic resizing of images to ensure they fit the page layouts and the automatic creation of thumbnail images. Store your images in folders so they can be reused on other pages. Special effects can be applied such as combining text and images, rotating and filters.

archive material

Add new content ready for publishing on the site. Simply check the box to make the information 'live'. Allows content to be reused or prepared in advance of publication. Dates can be set for content to be automatically published or removed from the site.

statistics

View monthly site statistics through Publish. See the number of page hits, search terms used to find your site, where your visitors are coming from and which pages are your most popular.

search engines

Change your sites page titles, keywords and meta data using Publish. Take control of your search engine optimisation. Submit your site to the search engines, monitor the results and change the key information on your site to improve your listings.

usability

Our easy to use interface makes organising your CMS content easy. Content is just one click away from editing. Publish homepage gives you access to all content, pages and site structure.
